I transferred to the University of Arizona and received a BA in Economics with Minors in Art History and English Literature. I worked as a mortgage banker in Tucson and volunteered with the Southern AZ 20/30 Club before staying home to raise 2 daughters.

I loved being involved with the YC SUAC (Student Union Activities Committee). The people I met there remain my best friends (Lois and Brenda and I were just talking about those fun times). I count those years at YC among the best in my life. I went on to be the Administrative VP of ASUA (Associated Students) at U. of A., which was a good experience. I never would have thought [to be involved] if I hadn't enjoyed being involved so much at YC.

Debbie McCasland was such a great boss and mentor as leader of SUAC. I really miss her. There were also many wonderful professors like Dave Hochstetler and Jim Pence. Their classes by far surpassed any classes I took at the University. The overall quality of education at YC was outstanding.

I am a stay-at-home wife and mother now living in Lincoln, NE. I volunteer doing fundraising, playing tennis and teach Sunday school. I love to travel but have not made it back to Prescott in 14 years. I hope to retire there... someday.
