(Left) Me looking like a doctor. Today I cannot call myself a doctor (even though I graduated from SCNM medical school) because I do not see patients. I now train naturopathic doctors in current nutritional health care.

Larry found some old photos and began to reminisce about the old days at Yavapai College. He shares that they might bring back memories of former teammates.

(Right) A Prescott High School football team pic. I am on top, Jim Skurja, Buddy Mosley and Chuck Weeks on the bottom. Most of my classmates will recognize the pic; it was popular in 1971.

Weeks on the bottom. Most of my classmates will recognize the pic; it was popular in 1971.

Larry finished his Bachelor of Science in Human Biology (Pre Med) at Grand Canyon University; then went on to Graduate Naturopathic Medical School. He is now the Owner /President of the Natural Medicine Speakers Bureau. He is a Healthcare Educator and Independent Representative for Designs for Health NiTek (Non Invasive Technologies).

"I got my certificate in Emergency Medicine while working as a volunteer for Central Yavapai Fire District. I took a class in sales and learned the basics in the art of Sales.

That education pays off more than anything I have done."

(Left) Dani is my Niece who graduated from Bradshaw High and is graduating from West Point on the 30th of this month.

Mike Shepard as the significant person who positively impacted him while he was at the College. He recalls that Mike embarrassed him in his first speech class, so he vowed to become a great public communicator, and says he's still working on it. Larry is now an effective speaker since he is the owner and President of the Natural Medicine Speakers Bureau. Larry notes that Mike Shepard is still a great public speaker.
