

March 2025 Board Highlights

Aviation, Division 1

- YC Aviation New Leadership and Training Opportunities

Big things are happening for Yavapai College Aviation, with new leadership, expanded training, and exciting partnerships designed to enhance their flight education!

Leadership with YC Roots – Scott Ritchie, the new Director of Aviation, and Zack Chamberlin, the new Aviation Specialist, are both YC alumni who are bringing their expertise and passion back to support the next generation of pilots.

- Scott Ritchie – From YC NARTA Training to Director of Aviation

Scott Ritchie joins YC as the new Director of Aviation, bringing with him a wealth of experience in both aviation and education. His extensive career includes earning FAA Commercial Pilot and Flight Instructor Certificates with Airplane, Multi-Engine, and Instrument ratings, as well as 20+ years of experience training pilots in both manned and unmanned aircraft.

But Scott's YC connection goes beyond aviation. He also completed the Northern Arizona Regional Training Academy (NARTA) in 2007 at YC to become a certified peace officer with the Yavapai County Sheriff's Office. This rigorous law enforcement training prepared him for service as a patrol deputy in the Eastern and Northern Area Commands, where he developed invaluable leadership, safety training, and operational skills, all of which he now brings back to his role as Director of Aviation at YC.

Now, Scott has come full circle, returning to YC to lead and grow a program that is shaping the next generation of aviation professionals. He's looking forward to working with students and faculty to support the continued growth of the YC Aviation program and help students develop the skills they need for the industry.

- Zack Chamberlin – From YC Aviation Student to Aviation Specialist

Zack's Journey from YC Student to Aviation Leader – Zack has been actively involved in aviation since 2012, earning his Rotorcraft Flight Instructor Certification with an Instrument

Rating after learning to fly in Hawaii. In 2019, he enrolled in YC's UAS Program, earning his Associate of Applied Science in Aerospace Science in 2021.

During his time at CTEC, Zack was dedicated to student success, working in the TRIO Program under Carol Beard and later as a math proctor under Dr. Baker. His hard work and academic excellence earned him the prestigious All-Arizona Scholarship. Zack went on to Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University, where he graduated with honors in 2023 with a Bachelor of Science in Aeronautics.

Now, Zack's journey has come full circle as he returns to YC as the new Aviation Specialist. Passionate about giving back, he hopes to inspire and support future aviators, sharing his knowledge and experience with students following a similar path.

- Aviation: New Flight Training Partnership

YC has partnered with Leighnor Aircraft LLC., owned by Lance and Debbie Leighnor, to provide students with top-tier flight instruction and seamless training experience.

- Aviation Expanding Simulator Training

Students will now train on a new state-of-the-art flight simulator from True Course Simulators, a local Prescott-based company. This investment will enhance hands-on learning opportunities, helping students build confidence and advance their training faster.

With these exciting additions, YC Aviation students are gaining access to the tools, mentorship, and technology they need to succeed in the skies. The future of aviation at YC is taking off—stay tuned for more updates!

CTE Chino Valley, Division 1

- YC Horticulture Students Cultivate Success for Upcoming Plant Sale May 10th

Yavapai College Spring Production Horticulture students are putting their skills into action, preparing for the much-anticipated Student Plant Sale on May 10! Each week, they are launching new crops and expanding their expertise in plant cultivation.

So far, students have successfully:

- 🌱 Seeded perennials
- 🌿 Designed and planted hanging baskets
- 🍓 Started rooting their first fruit propagations

Looking ahead, they will be expanding their offerings with a diverse selection of flowers, vegetables, and herbs, as well as honing their skills in grafting custom apple trees. All of this hands-on learning happens while they continue to plant, maintain, and harvest essential fruit and vegetable crops, gaining real-world experience that prepares them for careers in horticulture.

Join us in celebrating their hard work and don't miss the Student Plant Sale on May 10!

- CTE Chino Valley: Chino Valley Middle Schoolers Get Hands-On with YC Mini Classes

Local 7th and 8th graders recently got a firsthand look at Career & Technical Education through the first-ever YC Mini Class in Chino Valley! Designed to introduce students to various career pathways, this exciting program kicked off with a hands-on horticulture experience.

Over the past month, students explored plant science and completed engaging activities, including:

- 🌱 Germinating seeds through asexual propagation
- 🌿 Cloning plants and learning about soil health
- 📦 Building their own mini worm farms
- 🐛 Exploring aquaculture with visits to the hatchery

With the horticulture section now complete, students are gearing up for their next challenge—building their own birdhouses in the upcoming course!

These hands-on learning experiences are sparking curiosity, creativity, and career exploration among young students, helping them discover their passions early on.

- CTE Chino Valley: YC Agriculture Students Lead the Way in Community Outreach

As the Production Horticulture and Agriculture Program continues to grow, students are stepping up in a big way, taking the lead in outreach efforts across Yavapai County! With a strong focus on engaging local youth, YC students are actively participating in tours, industry summits, and speaking engagements, YC students are actively engaging with the community, inspiring the next generation to explore careers in agriculture.

Recently, student leaders played a key role in major events, including:

- 🚜 8th-Grade Promotion Day at the Farm – Introducing students to hands-on agriculture
- 🌱 7th and 8th-Grade Mini Classes – Sharing knowledge on plant science and sustainability
- 🔧 CTE Day at CTEC – Showcasing career pathways in technical education
- 🌾 Seed Mania Event – Engaging with the community through interactive activities

By taking on these leadership roles, YC Agriculture students are not only enhancing their own skills and industry connections but also helping faculty and staff expand the program's impact. A huge kudos to our student team for their dedication and hard work!

- CTE Chino Valley: YC Lineworker Students Gain Hands-On Training with APS

YC Lineworker students are taking their education beyond the classroom with real-world training in substation maintenance—thanks to the ongoing partnership between Yavapai College and Arizona Public Service (APS).

🔧 During a recent session, students received expert instruction from an APS supervisor, learning firsthand how to maintain and operate electrical substations—a critical skill in the power industry.

👷 This collaboration between APS and YC provides students with valuable industry exposure, mentorship, and career-building opportunities. By working directly with professionals in the field, students are not only developing technical skills but also gaining connections that can lead to future employment.

⚡ YC is proud to support students in pursuing careers in the energy sector, and partnerships like this ensure they are job-ready on day one. The future is bright for YC Lineworker students!

- CTE Chino Valley: YC CDL Students Gain More Driving Experience with New Training Model

Yavapai College CDL students are hitting the road with expanded hands-on training, thanks to a newly piloted 4-hour driving session.

📍 Training on the Open Road – Students are practicing their skills at key locations across Seligman, Belmont, and the scenic overlook above Camp Verde on I-17, ensuring they gain experience in varied driving conditions.

🕒 More Drive Time, More Confidence – This new format replaces the previous two-hour, twice-a-week sessions and allows students who travel from as far as Heber and Phoenix—or those with work restrictions—to train in longer, focused sessions without missing additional workdays.

🚛 Building Safer, More Skilled Drivers – By spending more time behind the wheel, students are developing stronger skills, increased confidence, and greater safety awareness—all critical for success in the commercial driving industry.

This innovative approach is already proving to be a win for students, helping them become better-prepared, safer, and more confident drivers as they work toward earning their Commercial Driver’s License (CDL). The road to success starts here at YC!

- YC Students Showcase Their Skills at SkillsUSA Competitions

YC students are putting their talents to the test today as they compete in SkillsUSA competitions, demonstrating the expertise they've gained in their programs.

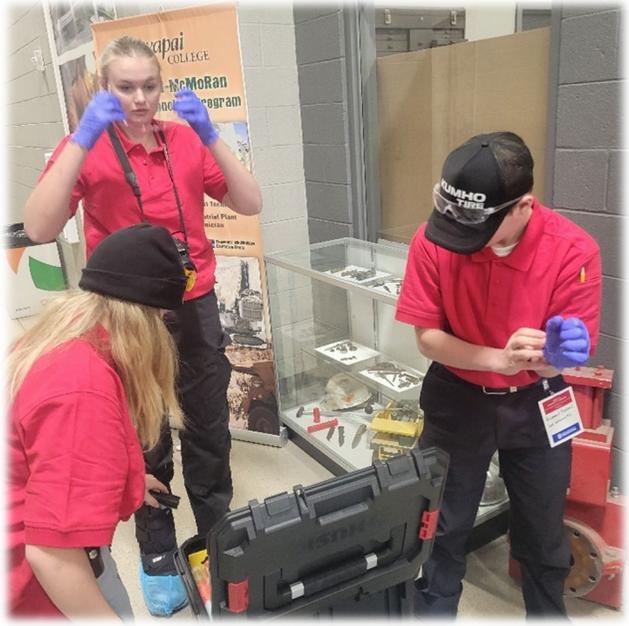

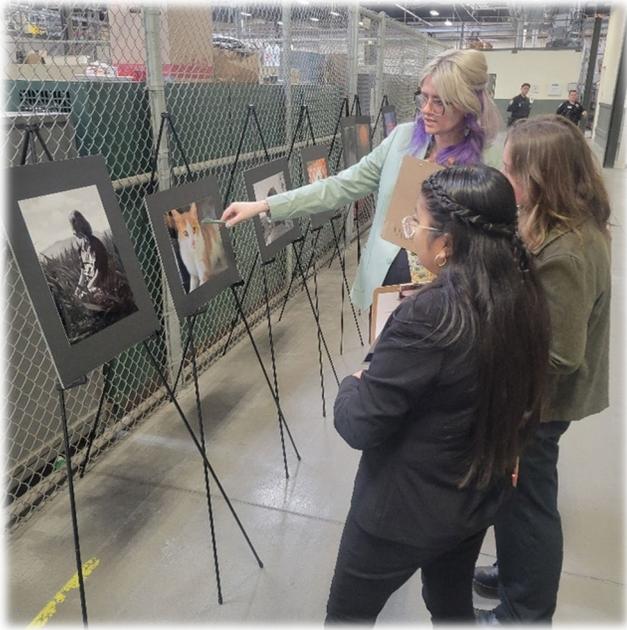

🔧 Hands-On Challenges – Students are competing in industry-specific contests, showcasing their skills in technical trades, leadership, and problem-solving.

🎯 Building Career-Ready Skills – These competitions provide students with real-world experience, confidence, and networking opportunities, helping them stand out in their future careers.

📅 A Two-Day Event – It's a big event, with the first days' competitions leading into the second day's leadership skills portion, which will take place during the first half of the day.

A big shoutout to all competitors for representing YC with dedication and skill! Here are some highlights from today's events as students put their knowledge into practice!

Paralegal Studies, Division 2

- YC Legal Paraprofessional Student Engages in Statewide Summit

Right: Dr. Tiffany Kragnes, Program Director of Paralegal Studies*

Yavapai College Legal Paraprofessional student Stacia Wenckus joined industry professionals at the Legal Paraprofessional Summit on February 7, 2025, at the University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law. Accompanied by Dr. Tiffany Kragnes, Program Director of Paralegal Studies, Stacia had the opportunity to network, collaborate, and gain insights from some of the most respected figures in Arizona's legal community.

The summit featured keynote addresses from Chief Justice Ann Timmer, Justice Maria Elena Cruz, and Justice Brian Furuya, offering students like Stacia a firsthand look at the evolving role of legal paraprofessionals in expanding access to justice.

Yavapai College is committed to providing students with enriching experiences that bridge education and career success. We are proud to see YC students actively engaging in opportunities that shape the future of their profession.

- Paralegal Studies: YC Student Shines at Prestigious Family Law Trial College

Yavapai College Legal Paraprofessional student Stacia Wenckus took a bold step in her legal education by participating in the highly selective Family Law Trial College, hosted by the Maricopa County Bar Association on February 21st. This exclusive program accepts only 12 participants and provides hands-on trial experience under the guidance of experienced Family Law Attorneys, Paraprofessionals, and Judges.

Given a mock family law case, complete with exhibits and live witnesses, Stacia faced the challenge head-on—despite feeling "absolutely terrified" at first. With encouragement and guidance from Paralegal Program Director Dr. Tiffany Kragnes, she successfully completed the "trial," earning praise from participants for her outstanding performance.

Inspired by Stacia's experience and recommendation, the Paralegal Program now plans to send one outstanding Legal Paraprofessional student each year to this prestigious program, ensuring that more YC students gain invaluable real-world experience.

Stacia, who is hearing impaired, continues to excel in legal education, showcasing resilience and dedication in her pursuit of excellence. She is currently applying for her Master of Laws (LL.M.) at the University of Arizona, further demonstrating her dedication to the field.

We are incredibly proud of Stacia's achievement and the way she represents Yavapai College students at the highest levels of legal education.

Administration of Justice (AJS), Public Services, Division 2

- YC Law and Justice Students Take Learning Beyond the Classroom

Yavapai College Law and Justice Club members are making the most of Spring 2025 by actively engaging in hands-on experiences that bring their studies to life.

Kicking off the semester, students participated in Club Rush on February 5th and 6th, connecting with peers and sharing opportunities to explore careers in law enforcement and the justice system. On February 10th, students gathered for their first club meeting, where they had the opportunity to hear from Chief Tyran Payne, who shared real-world insights into law enforcement and public service.

This semester, club members will take their learning even further with exciting trips and immersive experiences, including:

- ◆ Visiting FBI Headquarters in Phoenix to learn about federal investigations
- ◆ Touring the Arizona DPS Crime Lab to explore forensic science in action
- ◆ Observing a local court hearing for firsthand insight into the legal process
- ◆ Experiencing the VIRTRA simulator at the NARTA building, gaining practical law enforcement training

By participating in these activities, YC students expand their knowledge, build connections, and prepare for future careers in law and justice.

JOIN THE LAW & JUSTICE CLUB!

OUR GOALS FOR THIS YEAR
INCLUDE:

CLUB ACTIVITIES

- POLICE OFFICER RIDE ALONGS
- VIRTRA POLICE OFFICER VIRTUAL TRAINING EXPERIENCE
- Q&A SPEAKERS OF YOUR CHOICE!

PLUS FIELD TRIPS TO:

- AJS: YC Student Awarded Scholarship to Explore Women’s Impact in U.S. History

Athena Alvarez, an AmeriCorps student intern in the Administration of Justice Studies program, has been awarded a $500 scholarship from the American Association of University Women (AAUW). This scholarship will support her upcoming Spring Break trip to Philadelphia, where she will explore the vital role women played in the nation’s founding and the Revolutionary War.

This opportunity allows Athena to deepen her understanding of history while representing Yavapai College in an immersive learning experience.

We are proud of Athena’s achievement and look forward to the insights she will bring back to share with the YC community!

- AJS: YC Students Gather for Black History Month Movie Night

As part of Black History Month, Yavapai College students participated in a special movie night hosted by the YC Justice Institute and YC Respect Campaign on February 25.

📺 A Story of Dedication and Justice – Students watched Just Mercy; a film based on the true story of a Harvard Law graduate who dedicated his career to providing free legal representation to those on death row who lacked proper defense.

🎓 Student Participation and Engagement – The event brought together 24 students from various courses, along with members of the community, offering an opportunity to learn about historical legal challenges and the role of advocacy in the justice system.

💬 A Meaningful Evening – Movie nights like this provide students with a chance to engage with different perspectives, reflect on historical events, and discuss the real-world impact of law and justice.

Thank you to all who attended and contributed to this educational and thought-provoking evening!

- AJS: YC Justice Institute Supports Positive Police-Community Engagement

The Yavapai College Justice Institute continues its efforts to strengthen police and community relations through the Peace Officer Project. On March 5th and 6th, Chief Tyran Payne and Jerald Monahan provided comprehensive training to the entire Chino Valley Police Department, equipping officers and staff with tools to enhance engagement and collaboration within Yavapai County.

 Encouraging Higher Education – As part of the training, Chief Payne and Monahan emphasized the value of continuing education, encouraging department employees to complete their Administration of Justice (AJS) AAS degrees at YC.

A Multi-Level Training Approach – The two-day training included:

- March 5: Leadership-focused training for police supervisors
- March 5 (Evening): Presentation to City Council members and the Town Manager
- March 6: Training for police officers and civilian staff
- March 6 (Afternoon): "Train the Trainer" session, allowing Chino Valley PD to sustain the program internally

This initiative reflects YC's commitment to professional development and community partnership, ensuring law enforcement agencies have the resources to foster positive engagement and long-term impact.

Side Note: Chief Payne's son is currently training at NARTA as a Chino Valley police recruit, continuing the family's dedication to public service.

 Where is the harm?
 Policies, Procedures, Culture

Why the Peace Officer Promise is Important Today

5. You will note the use of the words, "Do no harm" embedded in The Promise.
6. A way to think about this is in your personal life: A significant step we can take in strengthening, or repairing, our personal relationships is to promise to do better as a friend or loved one. We can make amends for past actions that may have hurt those close to us.
7. This is also true about the relationship which you, as the police, have with your communities.
8. We may be overlooking the need for a promise of rightful policing in the future, so that trust and confidence in the police can be restored.

Fire Academy Update

- Transition to the Main campus is a huge success
- Equipment in Building 23 makes it more convenient to run the academy

Non Credit Classes – Fire Instructor

- Yavapai College leads the industry with the only fully online offering of Certified Fire Instructor.
- In the past 12 months we have certified over 150 fire service professionals as Instructors to include a national certification

Extrication Equipment Grant

- Yavapai College recently received a grant totaling over $18,000 for the “Jaws of life” extrication tool.
- This state-of-the-art hydraulic tool allows for industry leading training at our fire academy

Recent Partnerships

- The Fire Science program has partnered with the Arizona Chapter of Arson Investigators to be their sole source for Fire Investigation – Level 1 training – Online.

Fire Instructor classes for Metro Valley Departments

- Yavapai College Fire Science has partnered with Gilbert Fire Department and Queen Creek Fire Department
- Yavapai College now provides Fire Instructor Certification Training for all GFD and QCFD Recruit Training Officer (RTO) staff.

Special Thank you to the Yavapai College ELT for their support. We deeply appreciate their time and dedication to help us educate current and future fire service professionals.

Adult Basic Education (ABE)

- YC ABE Department Secures $70,000 in Grant Funding for VESL CDL Students

Exciting news for YC students training for careers in commercial driving! YC's Adult Basic Education (ABE) department has been awarded a $70,000 IEL/CE+T (Integrated English Literacy and Civics Education + Training) supplemental grant through WIOA Title II Section 243 funds to support additional VESL (Vocational English as a Second Language) CDL students.

📈 Expanding Opportunities – Despite receiving less than the initial request, This funding will allow 40 additional students to receive English language support alongside CDL training, providing critical training and language support to help them succeed in the trucking industry.

📊 Planning for Student Success – A revised annual budget is already in the works to ensure the funding directly benefits students and is used effectively.

This grant is another step toward helping YC students gain job-ready skills, complete their training, and move into high-demand careers. It strengthens YC's ability to support non-native English speakers in earning their CDL and accessing new career opportunities.

- Tara O’Neill, Professor of Education was selected as the administrator “2024-2025 League Excellence Award” recipient by Yavapai College’s Executive Leadership Team. The Excellence Awards were created by the League for Innovation in the Community College to celebrate outstanding contributions and leadership by community college faculty and staff. Dr. O’Neill was nominated based on the following criteria:

- Contribution to the advancement of innovation and creativity in achieving college priorities (Belonging, Living Wage, Adult Learners and/or Delivery)
- Providing leadership through respectful and collegial participation in collegewide initiatives
- Exhibiting a spirit of innovation that goes ‘above and beyond’ what is expected
- Recognizing that our students are amazing and demonstrate a commitment to helping them reach their full potential
- Making a significant contribution to creating the right conditions to support learning at Yavapai College.

The Executive Leadership Team found Dr. O’Neill to have demonstrated an extraordinary commitment to implementing Yavapai College’s Strategic Plan through outstanding effort and leadership. The awards ceremony will take place at the League of Innovation Conference March 9-12, 2025, in San Antonio, TX.

- An Pfister and Christina Goldsmith, Adjunct English Faculty, are currently partnering with YC’s library staff to complete the “Certificate in Open Pedagogy” through the University of Minnesota’s Open Education Network. - Lifelong Learning Associate Dean Retires Effective February 28

For everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven.

Message from Linda Shook, Associate Dean Lifelong Learning, Community Education, and Sedona Center: Six years ago on January 22, I started a new chapter in my life by moving to beautiful Arizona. My relocation from Montana to Yavapai County was prompted by the opportunity to oversee OLLI and Community Education programs in Sedona and the Verde Valley for Yavapai College. Over the years, my duties have expanded to administer the Lifelong Learning programs in Prescott as well.

As we all know, change is a part of life, and I have decided to make a change. Effective March 28, I will conclude my career here at Yavapai College. I am fortunate to have had a long and successful career in higher education and nonprofit organizations. It has been a privilege to serve life learning students and collaborate with so many talented colleagues.

Life is a gift, and it has been one of my greatest gifts in life to have a career in education.

The bi-annual Pathways to Careers Exploratory Day event continues to grow in popularity, offering students a valuable opportunity to explore diverse career pathways. Held once each semester, the event evolves with each iteration to enhance the experience for attendees.

This semester, industry professionals were introduced in the Pavilion and at most tour stops, providing students with valuable insights and the opportunity to ask questions. Additionally, participation from local organizations increased, with representatives from ACF regional leadership, the Yavapai County School Superintendent, Yavapai Big Brothers Big Sisters, the Center for the Future of Arizona, Cottonwood Rotary and various scholarship committees in attendance.

2025 31st Sedona International Film Festival –

The 31st Sedona International Film Festival, taking place in 2025, continues its legacy as a premier cinematic event, recently recognized by MovieMaker Magazine as one of the "25 Coolest Film Festivals in the World" for 2024. For the fifth consecutive year, Yavapai College will host the festival’s exclusive VIP Lounge at the Sedona Center, offering a wonderful retreat for filmmakers, industry professionals, and special guests. Attendees can indulge in gourmet lunches crafted by local chefs, as well as evening wine tastings paired with exquisite tapas from regional wineries and restaurants. The festival also features engaging film workshops, providing invaluable insights for aspiring and seasoned filmmakers alike, along with a dedicated media room for live-streamed interviews with producers, screenwriters, actors and other key figures in the industry. Beyond the film screenings and networking opportunities, the festival serves as a prime platform for showcasing in the form of advertising Yavapai College’s programs, the Verde Valley Campus and Sedona Center, further strengthening its connection with the vibrant arts community.

The Verde Valley Wine Consortium curates a rotating selection of local wineries, allowing festival guests to experience the region's finest wines throughout the event. Complementing the wine tastings, a rotation of local caterers and restaurants take advantage of the Sedona Center's state-of-the-art commercial kitchen to craft and present their signature culinary bites, adding a flavorful touch to the festival's VIP experience.
