

District Governing Board Highlights March 2022

YC Food Pantry

Yavapai College Food Pantry has partnered with Prescott Farmer's Market to provide fresh produce to our students struggling with food insecurity.

On Saturday morning, Marie Higgins, representative from the Prescott's Farmer's Market delivered:

- Kale
- Spinach
- carrots
- Salad greens
- Herbs
- Eggs
- Sourdough bread

HAPPY SPRING!

Updates in the Residence Halls:

- We launched our first ever Resident Experience Survey! We received a lot of great information from our residents.
- ResLife has been working hard on processing housing applications for the 22/23 academic term; we currently are full and have implemented a waiting list. We are excited that so many students want to come live on campus!
- We hosted a bagels & coffee event in the halls for residents to enjoy!

Early College

The Early College Team has been busy visiting various high school partners and hosting events at several YC campuses/centers. The EC Team has hosted 19 Early College Days so far, bringing more than 500 students to the YC Prescott and Verde Campuses. There are still six more Early College Days this spring. The Early College Team also partnered with MICTED and local high schools to present on YC programs and CTE fields.

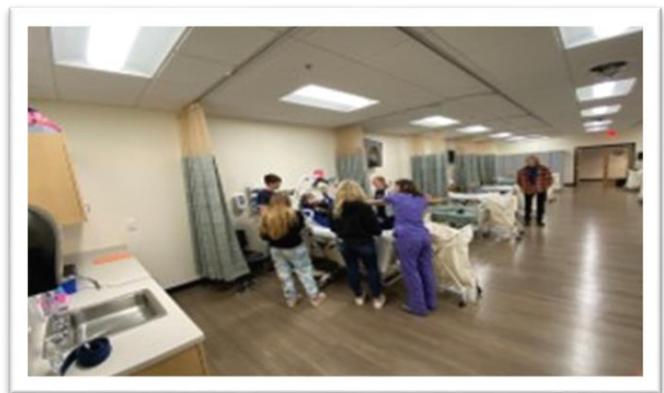

YC Promise

The YC Promise program presented with leadership on the successes of the first cohort at the Bellwether College Consortium. Currently, the Promise Program is finalizing plans for its second graduating class as well as preparing the third and fourth cohorts for the future semesters. Orientations are being planned for Summer 2022 for Cohort 4 and expansion options are being reviewed.

ETS - Allied Health Career Exploration

The Educational Talent Search students from Mayer and Bradshaw Mountain High schools visited Allied Health facilities at the Yavapai College Prescott Valley campus. The students participated in an introduction of Medical Assistant, Radiological Technologist, and Certified Nurse's Assistant programs. With hands on experiences, our students came away with a better understanding of what it takes to be in the medical field.

TRIO Student Support Services (SSS TRIO)

On February 16th and 17th, nine SSS TRIO participants attended an interactive roleplaying presentation by SSS Student Ambassador, Mike Swyer, to see what it's like to be on the other side of the table. The students read and discussed example scholarship letters, learned what pitfalls to avoid, how to stand out from the crowd, how to frame their stories and goals, how to format their applications, and where to locate the best scholarships for their needs.

Who knew that grading papers could be this much fun? Catherine, James and Mitch are learning about scholarship writing by ranking sample scholarship letters and seeing first-hand what scholarship committees might be looking for.

On February 28th, SSS participants painted positive messages on rocks to share on campus. This community event was coordinated by SSS TRIO Student, Danielle Hultquist, in partnership with Health and Wellness Club providing painting supplies.
