

Spring 2021 Literature Courses

Join Dr. Van Lieu as we explore:

- *Science Fiction
- *Civil War Literature
- *Literature by Diverse Authors

ENG230 CRN: 19123

Course fulfills IWR, ERG, & Arts and Humanities

ENG 210: INTRO TO RHETORIC

Spring 2021
8 Week Course
CRN 18842 (Online)

- What is Rhetoric? The art of speaking and writing well in order to persuade an audience.
- Why study Rhetoric? The study of Rhetoric is fundamental to academic success because it helps students become better thinkers, writers, and communicators.

Fulfills Arts & Humanities
General Education Requirement!

"Literature trains students to think critically about historical ideas and to write effectively, yes. But it does more: It challenges them to express deeper truths of the heart with elegance and insight. Literature conveys wisdom distinct from other humanities courses. So, as the Bard might say, if literature be the food of wisdom, read on!"

--from "The Value of an English Requirement,"

ACTA

Spring
2021

WILL SHE OR WON'T SHE?

... Find out this Spring

ENG237

Women In Literature

Instr: Beth Beecham

CRN#19125

Fulfills the Ethnic/Race/Gender, Global/International or Historical,
Arts & Humanities, and Intensive Writing

Course Description:

Survey of women in literature from ancient Greece to present with emphasis on images of female protagonists as portrayed by male and female authors.

3 Credit

ENG 101/103 Prerequisite

Register today at: WWW.YC.EDU

Yavapai COLLEGE life explored